GRADUATION TIME---Mrs. Bea Martinez congratulates one of 22 students of the Campbell Head Start program who graduated last week. Commencement exercises are taking place this week in the Campbell Union High School District and on Friday graduation ceremonies will be held at West Valley College. Elementary school children will have summer vacation starting Friday. (See inside for other graduation events.)

OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

LAST WEEK THIS COLumn suggested that there were a number of spots in town that present some horrendous traffic problems.

We cited, as a case in point, the difficulty of getting onto Campbell Avenue when traffic is at its peak and the bumper-to-bumper jams that have become the rule rather than the exception on that thoroughfare.

We submitted that there were other situations in town that were equally as bad from a traffic point of view.

We promised to cite a few of 'em as glaring examples of distinct fender-bender possibilities or worse.

We have learned since the appearance of last week's column that a number of other people share our frustration with respect to traffic conditions at various locations in town.

We have found also that people have their special "favorites." (And we are using the word in its most facetious sense.)

For the most part, the "rating" of the spots depends to a great extent on what route a person travels regularly.

Obviously, if a person does not travel on Campbell Ave. or Bascom regularly, he remains blissfully unaware of the mobile pitfalls that can be encountered on those particular streets.

He can thus maintain that there are even worse traffic conditions in other areas in town.

It is sort of a case of relativity.

Or something.

NATURALLY THE TRAFfic on almost all streets during the past years has multiplied because of the increase in population.

Some streets that were used almost exclusively by local residents a few years ago have now become commuter routes and "through travel" out numbers local by a good margin.

Many people barreling home from work are going to take the course of less resistance and that could mean cutting through any residential areas on their way at a lickety-split rate rather than using the jammed freeways and expressways.

These same people, however, once they get home generally are the first to scream, if traffic gets heavier than usual on the streets on which they reside.

But that's the way the tire bounces.

OBVIOUSLY there is no simple way to get "through traffic" off residential streets.

Public streets are for the public and all that.

On the other hand, it is our contention that it should not be necessary either to make it more convenient for the "through people" to use residential streets.

Take Campbell Avenue, east of Bascom, as a f'instance.

IT'S MIGHTY CONVENIent to take a straight shot from Leigh to Bascom on that street.

And, according to a recent traffic survey, about 4500 cars daily are now taking that route.

We think it is grossly unfair to allow such a heavy flow of traffic on that street, which is one of the most attractive in town.

Or was before it became virtually a race track.

We know, traffic experts argue, that stop signs are not supposed to be used to slow down or eliminate heavy traffic. Such signs are supposedly located at strategic spots because of cross-travel traffic hazards that exist.

Yet we feel that on certain specific streets where

AT PLANNING COMMISSION NEXT MONDAY

East Campbell Ave. zoning issue flares

Residents from East Campbell Ave. and other residential streets off Bascom Ave. are expected to be on hand at the Planning Commission meeting next Monday (June 19) for the zone change hearing affecting properties on the streets.

Only four parcels are actually involved in the zone change proceedings, but the residents in the area indicated concern last month, when the hearing was opened, over possible future encroachment of commercial activity onto the residential streets.

The hearing involves a single-family residential lot at 1062 E. Campbell, directly behind La Fonda; a parcel across the street on which four dwellings are located; a lot on Fewtrell on which a duplex now exists and a lot at 973 Apricot.

Involved also is a study made by the Chamber of Commerce as to what the proper depth should be of the commercial zoning on Bascom Ave.

The Planning Commission initiated the zone change action because the lots in question are zoned commercial, but are occupied now by residences.

Some members of the Commission also felt that a city policy should be specified directing that all commercial activity in the area should be oriented to Bascom.

Owners of the properties on E. Campbell Ave. are opposing the "downgrading" of the parcels. The Martin family, owners of the 1062 E. Campbell parcel and other lots facing Bascom, have indicated that they anticipate making that lot a part of their commercial complex on Bascom.

Bell stays

Campbell's lone historical landmark, the El Camino Mission Bell will remain in its present tree-shrouded location at Winchester and Campbell avenues as a result of the City Council action Monday night.

The City Council, upon recommendation of the Parks and Recreation Commission and other interested citizens who thought the bell should be in a more visible spot, had directed that it be moved to the Gomes Park.

However, the Council reversed its action on Monday after the receipt of a letter from Mrs. Fred H. Stephens, president of the Pundita Club, requesting that the bell remain in its present location.

ON APPEAL TO COUNCIL

Station loses truck rentals

Despite the plea by Charles Rose, former mayor and councilman, that the city regulations were working a hardship on private enterprise as far as the small businessman was concerned, the City Council on Monday night upheld the decision of the Planning Commission denying a service station a use permit to operate a truck-trailer rental business at the station.

Vincent Talluto, who operates a service station at Winchester and Latimer on property owned by Rose, claimed, in his appeal from the Planning Commission ruling, that the truck rentals were needed for him to make a living from the station.

He cited examples where such activity was allowed at stations. The Commission had ruled that truck rental activity was not permitted under the use permit and the Council upheld the ruling Monday night.

Bradley retires Dec. 31

"It is public knowledge that Mr. Bradley will retire at the end of the calendar year," Dr. Richard MacQuiddy, president of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District, reported to a sparse audience at the board meeting last Thursday.

MacQuiddy's statement came in response to a letter to the board requesting the termination date of employment of the district's business manager, inasmuch as the district was now advertising for business manager applicants.

Superintendent Jim D'Avis added that at the next board meeting (Thursday, June 22) Bradley's letter of retirement will be presented.

Bradley, who was present at the meeting, took exception to the word "termination" in the letter and said that his employment was not being "terminated". He was "retiring", he pointed out.

Although it has been understood that Bradley's letter of retirement specifying the date had been submitted to the board for some months, the statement of MacQuiddy last Thursday was the first official recognition of it.

Superintendent D'Avis, on behalf of the district, recently had inserted advertisements in professional journals seeking applicants for business manager. Deadline for applying is June 23, 1972.

Earlier in the year, after Bradley had announced that

ON AMATO PROPERTY

Single-family home tract map gets Council approval

A tentative subdivision map of 83 single-family homes submitted by Dura Style Homes for 17 acres of the 32-acre Amato property was approved unanimously by the City Council on Monday night.

But residents in the area who were instrumental in blocking previously proposed townhouse development for the property were on hand to voice objections to the traffic pattern and to express concern over what may be developed on the remaining 14 acres.

The city's present general plan, now under study by the Planning Commission, the residents emphasized, calls for high and medium density on the 14 acres. They asked the City Council to take steps to develop a new low density of five units per acre for the parcel.

The Council indicated that the recommendation of the Planning Commission for that particular area would be given high priority when the entire general plan was reviewed.

Speaking at the meeting were Harry Lewis and Dave Ritter, Springfield Drive residents; Mrs. Ray Barton; from Hedegard; Bob Sneed, of Victor, and Mrs. Lee Adcock, of McBain Court.

In addition to asking for a new low density to be applied to the remaining 14 acres, the residents suggested modifications to the street plans. Mrs. Barton also wanted assurance from Mike Engdol, the developer, that no two-story residences would be built on certain lots. Mrs. Adcock thought the entire Amato property should have been considered as one parcel.

The Council approved the same map that had been recommended by the Planning Commission, allowing one access on to Campbell Ave. and added the condition that one lot would be reserved for the continuance of a future street.

OTHER ACTIONS

In other actions on Monday night, the Council:

REJECTED the appeal by Gina, Inc. of a Planning Commission ruling denying six fourplexes on property at 665 Division St.

DEFERRED action for two weeks on bids submitted for the city's insurance. Complicating matters for the councilmen was the question of "umbrella coverage" and other items that were included in the specifications subject to different interpretations.

Three bids were submitted: James F. Smith & Co., the present carrier, for $30,546; McChesney & Webster, $32,570; and Agents Administration, $34,064.

Pete Giorgianni, representing Agents Administration, explained what his policy covered and Jim Smith also defined his coverage. Jeff Whittaker, finance director, had recommended that the James F. Smith Co. be awarded the

Campbell High senior returns home to Ghana at end of school term

By Barbara Price

Ghana, a young nation on the west coast of central Africa, may be an ocean, a continent and cultures away from Campbell, California.

But to Joe Ackah Yensu, a 17-year-old Campbell High senior, Ghana means home.

Yensu, a Youth for Understanding exchange student, spent the past year with the Donald Palmby family, 3845 Phoenix Court.

"I've learned to know people better and have experienced many things" said the friendly teen, who has shared his eventful year in Campbell with his American "brother and sister", Dawn Palmby, 18, and Keith, 16.

Joe Yensu, who is the second oldest of seven children, was asked if he was homesick as his stay in California began. "No," he replied, explaining that he is used to living away from home and has boarded since age 11 at a school near Sekondi on the coast, as do most high school age students in Ghana.

Two of his teachers at the government boarding school were Americans, so Yensu said he was prepared for our country's industry and bigness.

FASTER HERE

Nevertheless, the thing that the 17-year-old noticed most when he first came to California was the swift pace of life. "Things move slower in my country," he said.

He describes Ghana as a land of rolling hills, deeply forested, where it rains very heavily in the summer.

"In all of Africa," notes the teen, "there is probably only one mountain with snow on it,"---so he saw snow for the first time in America.

"I don't feel comfortable in the snow," he laughs, "it's just too cold." He visited the cold white slopes of the Sierra Nevadas often enough this past winter to learn to ski, but he said, "the snow is pretty, but I would much rather just look at it."

Day-long trips to the snow weren't the only outdoor ventures for Yensu this year. Joe, an active member of Campbell High's Young Life Club, attended three camps sponsored by the Christian organization.

ATTENDS CAMPS

He smiles broadly as he recalls the camps which he considers a highlight of his stay in America. Two of the outings were held at the Redwood Christian Camp and one was at Mount Hermon, in the Santa Cruz Mountains.

CAMPBELL HOME---Joe Ackah Yensu, a 17-year-old Campbell High senior, stands outside the Donald Palmby home, 3845 Phoenix Court, where he has been living for the past year as Youth for Understanding Exchange student. Yensu is a native of Ghana, Africa.

Joe, who was a member of his boarding school's Scripture Union in Ghana, joins the Palmby family each Sunday in attending the United Methodist Church of Campbell.

During the week, Joe Yensu studied chemistry, trigonometry, English, music and Russian history at Campbell High, where he says, "Almost everybody is my friend."

Along with his homework and Christian activities, Joe Yensu found the time to play left wing on Campbell High's soccer team.

He also ran in a couple of track meets for Campbell High, placing second in one, before he was forced to give up because of time conflicts in his busy schedule.

A member of Campbell High's foreign exchange club, Joe was also obligated as a Youth for Understanding student to visit area high schools and enter different classes to answer questions about Ghana.

He had the opportunity at the frequent International Days to chat with hundreds of other exchange students from all corners of the globe, an experience he feels has really broadened his view of life.

Recalling a conversation with a young peasant from Germany, Yensu said, "I could

Three armed robberies take place in Campbell Monday

Shades of New York!

Three armed robberies took place in Campbell on Monday, one at 10:30 a.m. in the PruneYard shopping center where a gunman slugged the victim and made off with $1,091.

The first incident to start the day off, according to the police reports, took place at 12:30 a.m. when Timothy Carstensen, 18, attendant at the Martin Oil Co. at 851 E. Hamilton, was robbed of $135 by a suspect disguised in heavy clothing who, after first asking the way to the restroom, pulled a pistol and then made off on foot after taking currency from the register.

The third holdup took place at Union Water Beds, at 28 E. Campbell Ave. at 1:30 p.m., when Robert Leeper, 20, a salesman was accosted by two young suspects, both with guns, who demanded money from the till after first removing and breaking Leeper's glasses. About $100 was taken by the gunmen.

In the PruneYard parking lot holdup, James Leonard, 26, manager of the Star and Bar station at Union and Campbell aves. was preparing to make a deposit in the Crocker Bank.

Police report that Leonard was forced at gunpoint to drive to the rear of the bank where he was slugged senseless by a pistol. The thug then escaped on foot.

Leonard staggered into the bank and police were notified. He was taken by ambulance to the Campbell Community Hospital where he was released after emergency treatment.

Building shows $1.6 million increase over 1971 to date

Activity in the commercial field in Campbell during the first five months has been largely responsible for the $1.6 million increase over last year in the building permit total for the period, according to the report of Wally Byron, building official.

For the first five months, the building permit total has reached $7,544,082 compared to $5,940,470, in 1971.

During May, this year, however, the total was only $296,837 while in May last year the figure was $719,500.

In May there were three commercial building permits issued totalling $197,660, two of them for restaurants for $117,660.

Herfy's, a firm that already has one restaurant across from the PruneYard, took out a permit for $53,742 for another one at 1651 W. Campbell in the Kirkwood Plaza area.

Carrow's Restaurant, at 1228 Camden, took out a permit for $63,662. The other commercial building permit for the month went to George Greene for a $80,256 office building at 221 E. Hacienda.

In a related commercial activity, was a permit for a $65,005 addition for Wheel-Away Bike Shop at 390-402 Hamilton.

An industrial building permit was issued in May to Tanner Construction for $7,411 for a storage yard and office at 921 Dell.

Other permits for May included alterations and additions ($76,066); swimming pools ($6,200); signs ($900) and miscellaneous ($8000).

There were no permits in May for residential construction either of the multiple or single-family type. However, since January there have been 13 permits issued for single-family unit construction for $233,997 compared to none for the same period last year. The Kunkel-Thomas project at Hacienda and Sunnyoaks has accounted for 11 of the permits.

An opportunity

On May 10, 1972, 30 days after its adoption by the City Council, Ordinance No. 841 of the City of Campbell establishing a seven-member Civic Improvement Commission, became effective.

Another 30 days has now passed and the new advisory commission still remains on the "drafting board", so to speak.

We understand that only about six people have indicated an interest in being appointed to the Civic Improvement Commission. This is surprising in face of the duties and responsibilities that the new advisory body will have and the part that the new commission could play in this city's future.

The Campbell Press favored the establishment of the Civic Improvement Commission from the time the idea was first initiated, for we sincerely felt that its scope of activity filled a need for this community.

We are disappointed that the response by the citizens has not been overly enthusiastic.

It is often true that when something "new" is presented, people are prone to wait until they have had an opportunity to see what it is all about before becoming directly involved. That possibly could be the reason that the response has been weak in the case of the Civic Improvement Commission.

It is also possibly true that, except in the case of those who worked from the beginning to institute the new advisory body, people are just not sure what role the new commission has to play in the functions of this city.

The ordinance specifies that the Civic Improvement Commission has seven basic duties and responsibilities.

1. Act in an advisory capacity to the City Council and to cooperate with other governmental agencies and civic groups and voluntary organizations in the areas of cultural needs, health and welfare services, beautification, environment, library needs, historical needs and problems of youth and senior citizens.

2. Identify community needs and problems within the scope of concerns assigned to the Commission.

3. Provide channels for the epxression of community needs and problems.

4. Advise the City Council as to what available resources can be used to deal with the problems.

5. Interpret the policies and functions of the Commission to the general public.

6. Promote community interaction in all phases of civic needs as the City grows and changes in its new environment.

7. Advise the City Council and city manager of the needs for funds during the preparation of the annual budget for civic improvement programs and recommend a long range capital improvement for these projects.

An examination of these duties and responsibilities that are spelled out in the ordinance indicate how important this advisory body could be in achieving the goals of the city by establishing a line of communication between all segments of the city and the city's administration.

Some might maintain that the Civic Improvement Commission is too broad in its scope of possible functions.

Unlike the other advisory bodies, planning, parks and recreation and youth, which have specific fields in which to operate, the Civic Improvement Commission, by virtue of the ordinance, can move into all areas of concern.

However, we maintain that the value of the new commission is in the fact that it can be general in its evaluation of the needs and problems of the community.

None of us are in a position to pinpoint just what the future holds for the City of Campbell in the way of cultural, health and welfare services, beautification, and youth and senior citizen problems.

We maintain that the City of Campbell is fast reaching the stage where expansion alone is not of the prime importance that it was a few years back.

Thus "housekeeping" of the facilities that exist and the improvement of the services that can be offered by the City of Campbell seems to us will be more important in the near future than they have in the past.

We think that the Civic Improvement Commission offers the citizens a tremendous opportunity to be the "sounding board" as to what the citizens themselves want their city to be.

We urge those of you who are concerned about what your city can be under proper guidance in the future to consider the importance of this new advisory body.

It offers a rare opportunity to become involved in matters that directly affect us all.

We are certain that many of you are concerned and would like to "do something."

This then is your chance.

"through traffic" has become a problem, maybe the traffic experts could unbend a little.

But as we have stated before, we have the "advantage" of not being a traffic engineer. We can offer such a suggestion without any expertise.

We do feel that the residents on E. Campbell Ave. do not have a basis for complaints both from the heavy traffic that is presently on their street, as well as any possible encroachment on commercial activity that might extend on it from Bascom.

The Planning Commission on next Monday, June 19, holds a hearing on the zoning of a number of lots off Bascom on Campbell Ave.

The hearing was continued from last month because of a study that is under way by the Chamber of Commerce to determine how deep the commercial area should be on Bascom.

That's a commendable undertaking by the CofC. It should have been done a long time ago before any so-called "crisis" existed and before the tremendous development and growth had taken place.

It was stated at the first hearing by Attorney John M. Chargin, who was representing one of the property owners involved in the zone change, it was conceivable that the entire E. Campbell area would be all commercial some day.

We can't buy that.

OUR CRYSTAL BALL probably has as many cracks in it as Jack Chargin's but, in our opinion, the need for more commercial areas in that section of town appears to be diminishing.

It is inconceivable to us that it will ever be necessary to convert an attractive residential area into a commercial development in face of the many undeveloped commercial sections that remain now plus those that are being currently developed.

There has to be a saturation point some place.

We hold that the commercial area on Bascom Ave. should be oriented to Bascom Ave...PERIOD.

We think the residents on E. Campbell Ave. and other similar streets in the area feel likewise.

And we have a hunch they will make their feelings on the subject known at the hearing next Monday.

WITH SOME TREPIDATION we have been reading the glowing accounts of the "American style monte carlo rallye" that is to be presented by Nor-Cal Rallye Team on June 23-25.

We are not too familiar with the activity. But we gather that the guys and gals really have a ball following the directions as they zoom around the course. We understand that the drivers and navigators have only a general idea of the route before they start.

The start in this case will be in Salinas Valley on Friday evening at 6 p.m. The finish will be at the Los Gatos Lodge.

We note: "This three-day, thousand mile adventure is unique in several ways. Los Gatos Lodge, nestled in the lovely foothills of Los Gatos, will be the focal point for all rallye activities...."Each evening the participants will be able to return to their own abodes for necessary repairs to vehicle and body.

It is called "Conquest III".

WE HAVE NO IDEA OF the route that will be used as the drivers scoot around. But we also note that "Rallye roads will be new and breathtaking; and will introduce every conceivable driving situation imaginable in the Golden State."

Man alive!

Does that mean bumper-to-bumper driving on the freeways?

Incidentally, we recall that on several occasions in the past when similar events were staged, the route took the drivers through residential streets in Campbell.

The residents of the streets were not prepared for the zooming and the action which took place at night.

We remember the drivers tore into the cul-de-sac in town where a directional sign was posted on a post.

The rallye was held at night and the cars would scoot into the cul-de-sac. The "navigator" or driver would stop and look at the sign and take off again.

You can imagine how the residents on that particular cul-de-sac felt about it, especially when they were unaware of what was taking place.

Naturally they called the police.

We hope this time, if any Campbell streets are going to be used, that the police are aware of the route.

And the residents have been warned.

Dear Mr. Vierhus:

I think the best solution for the Mission bell problem is to leave the bell where it is and to remove the tree branch which hides it.

TAX ELECTION

Editor,

Campbell Union School District will soon ask its citizens to approve an extension of its current $2.55 per hundred tax rate for an additional five years, that rate having been in effect since 1962.

Three months ago, the voters turned down a $3.05 rate designed to maintain present programs and the present curtailed level of education. The district needs at least a $3.50 tax rate to restore that high level of education excellence which once placed CUSD in an honored position among California school districts.

The $3.05 tax rate, though admittedly inadequate, particularly under present-day school district operating procedures and misplaced priorities, was supported by the district's teachers.

It was defeated by a combination of circumstances: 1) the opposition of the Campbell business interests as represented by the Chamber of Commerce, who allowed their pique over the unfortunate but necessary dismissal of the former superintendent to override their obligation to the community and its youth; 2) the opposition of United Taxpayers, operating covertly for the most part, masquerading as "senior citizen" or "retired"; 3) the legitimate opposition of over-burdened property tax payers, awaiting long-promised tax reforms which never materialize, whose dedication to the community and to youth has finally been overcome by actual inability to pay; and, 4) the fact that many parents of present-day Campbell students either did not vote or voted "no", sacrificing the future of their own children to avoid a $30 to $40 tax boost, even though most citizens in this basically middle and upper-middle class West Valley community can well afford to properly support their schools.

Before the election, sixty-two teachers were given "intent to dismiss" notices, as failure of the election meant reversion to a $1.80 tax rate. Had the election succeeded, the notices would have been withdrawn.

The opposition decried these "scare tactics," pointing out that the district could come back for a lower rate to avoid reversion to $1.80 and could thereby save all or most of the tentative dismissals.

The Campbell Chamber of Commerce has announced its support for the $2.55 maintenance election. To the Chamber we say "too little, too late." The ultra-conservative taxpayers association has announced its opposition. But the citizens may now salve their collective consciences by voting for this totally inadequate funding, and congratulate themselves for saving the jobs of what is now, due to resignations and retirements, fifty-four teachers.

However, contrary to popular belief, teachers cannot live or rear their families on dedication, and those who depend on these jobs for their support cannot wait until the end of July to know whether they will teach in CUSD in '72-'73. By then, many fine new teachers will have found other jobs, in or out of the profession, and their talents will have been lost to the district's youth forever.

In addition, a number of highly qualified, experienced teachers will have left the district, tired of the financial hassle and utterly discouraged by the continuing deterioration of our education program.

Further, many special programs and support services will have been further curtailed. Four librarians for nineteen schools! Five psychologists for 10,500 students!

However, we should not despair, for the community will have the kind of schools, the kind of education program, and the kind of teachers it deserves -- those for which it is willing to pay. But what of the community's children?

Treasurer
WVFT-AFT Local 1953

FAVORS "YES" VOTE

Dear Mr. Vierhus,

Voters in the upcoming CUSD school tax election will be told by those opposing the measure that an attempt is being made again to increase the tax rate.

Technically this will be true because our present tax rate of $2.55 is dropping to $1.80 as the school year ends.

A "YES" vote is a vote to pay the same tax next year as we did last year.

he planned to retire (with no date specified), the district authorized the employment of an administrative assistant for business as an "interim" job with the idea that the person would be a likely candidate to become business manager when Bradley retired.

However, the position was never filled and the district is now seeking a business manager.

Bradley has been business manager of the district since 1952.

In other actions the trustees awarded the contract for the Ouito School addition to Frank Surian & Sons of San Jose on a low bid of $84,954. Three bids were submitted. The office at the school was destroyed by fire on Jan. 16.

It was also announced that bids for blacktopping areas in the district would be received on June 22.

By a 4-1 vote, with Trustee Judy Ruscigno dissenting, the board adopted the report of the P.P.B.S. steering committee. Mrs. Ruscigno questioned the urgency of implementing the plan in all the schools.

In answer to a letter that had been submitted by Mrs. Richard Thurman who was concerned over the noise and traffic problems at Moorpark School because of the proximity of the freeway, it was announced that the State of California highway department had accepted the responsibility to develop a solution to the noise problem.

Superintendent D'Avis reported that Mrs. Mary Ellen James and Mrs. Betty Piper have been selected as co-chairmen of the Citizens Tax Election Committee.

On July 25, the question of whether the district should continue with the present $2.55 rate will be submitted to the voters. The rate reverts to $1.80 if the election is not successful.

On February 29, the $3.05 rate was defeated.

One of the permits was for the 10-story office building in the Prune-Yard for $2.4 million and the other for the Federated Department Stores furniture outlet at 600 E. Hamilton for $1.8 million. Since January, commercial building has topped $4.8 million.

Five candidates have filed nomination papers for the West Valley College District trustee position that is open because of the resignation of Edward A. Panelli, who was appointed to the Superior Court bench on March 1.

The election will be held on July 25 in conjunction with the tax increase election in the Campbell Union (elementary) District.

Because Judge Panelli represented the Los Gatos-Saratoga sector, all candidates for the vacancy must also be residents of that same district. However, all registered voters in the college district will be able to cast ballots.

When the Rev. W.H. (Ben) Gould was elected to the board in a special election on Oct. 26, there were 16 candidates for the position. The vacancy was created at that time by the death of William Homan.

Those filing for the election on July 25 are:

William H. Cilker, of 16075 Matilija Drive, Los Gatos, an engineer and orchardist; Dr. Anthony C. Gualtieri, 38 Alpine Road, Los Gatos, surgeon; Mrs. Lois A. Josepson, 20281 Blauer Drive, Saratoga, graduate student-housewife; John F. Mallen, 19452 Via Real Drive, Saratoga, attorney-teacher; Roy Perez, 13250 Via Arriba, Saratoga, West Valley College pre-law student.

STAND UP STRAIGHT -- "Graduates" of the Campbell Head Start program, adorned with caps and gowns, line up to chorus an address to their audience before receiving diplomas.

Head Start has cap and gown graduation

Twenty-two pre-schoolers, in appropriate caps and gowns, "graduated" last week from the Head Start program at St. Lawrence Church, 65 W. Rincon.

The ceremonies were short, but included a skit which was well received by the many parents and guests.

Director of the center, Mrs. Bea Martinez, passed out ribboned "diplomas" and amid the lights of many flashbulbs, the children rushed to their parents' sides.

Graduates were Julie Anderson, Richard Bernal, John Boast, Kenny Butler, Helen Hernandez, Chris Cossetti, Toni Deering, Catherine Duffey, James Duffey, Sam Edwards, Joe Howard Lynn, Debbie Gutierez, Robert Maestre, Daniel O'Keffee, Nancy Olsen, Barbara Vega, Gustano Zendejas, Richard Hammond, Monica Thomson, Jerry Parker, Joe Yunta and Mark Verdi.

Assisting in the graduation exercises were Mrs. Rocky Harlow, teacher-aide and Mrs. Jewel Traina, volunteer coordinator.

I DON'T WANNA GO---Mrs. Bea Martinez, Head Start teacher, comforts one of her "graduates" who felt the need for a little extra attention on "commencement" day. Standing are Mrs. Jewel Traina and Mrs. Rocky Harlow

Warrior Wrap-Up

by Ellen Carrico

Westmont seniors attended their last school day Friday. Although they no longer had to go to regular classes, they did have to attend the two graduation practices which were held Monday and Tuesday from 9 a.m. to noon.

The Class of '72 will be leaving high school for good tonight. At 5 p.m. graduation will commence in Westmont's Outdoor Arena. Speakers chosen for this year's graduation will be Jack Mommsen and Bonnie Stoner.

ALL-NIGHT PARTY

Although there will be many sad, tear-filled seniors leaving, they will probably forget their sorrows during the Senior All-Night Party. This year's party will be held at Saratoga Lanes.

Bowling, pool, games and dancing to the music of "Gropus Cactus" will be among events offered to students attending their last get-together.

The price of the All-Night Party is $10 per person and dates will be welcomed.

TEEN CLUB

Westmont's Teen Club will begin June 21. Students will be able to dance to music from "The Chosen Few" on that night. Teen Club Cards will be available at the door for $1.50. This card enables students to get into the dances for just 50¢.

Since this is my last article for the year, I'd like to give a special thanks to Ed Long for all the help he's given me.

THANKS EDDIE!!!

Elementary music program has room for students

There are still openings in the summer music program sponsored by the Campbell Union (elementary) School District for students entering fourth grades through graduating eighth graders.

The music program which includes lessons, group work, recreation and other opportunities, will be conducted daily from 9 a.m. until noon at Campbell School, 295 Cherry Lane.

The culmination of the program is a concert, in past years held at the San Jose Civic Auditorium.

Enrollment is down this year, possibly because of the elimination of district transportation.

Cost of the program is $20 which covers music and instruction. For information, call Mrs. Melva Miller, 378-3405.

MR. and MRS. ROBERT BASUINO

May bride sang to her groom

After reciting the vows uniting her with Robert Joseph Basuino, Loreen Gay Nelson sang the Lord's Prayer at the altar of St. Francis Cabrini Church during the recent double ring ceremonies performed by Father Harold Pearce.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldred L. Nelson, 470 Union Ave., carried a cascade of white and pink roses as she was given in marriage by her father.

Her high-necked wedding gown of silk organza over taffeta which featured long puffed sleeves, a fitted waist and a long self-train, was enhanced with English lace and seed pearl trim.

Securing the bride's long train veil was an English lace-covered cap and a finger length veil studded with seed pearls.

A bouquet of burgundy roses, baby's breath and ferns was carried by Sheri Bohnett, cousin of the bride, who served as maid of honor attired in a high-necked, long-sleeved gown of pink crepe dacron trimmed with burgundy and pink flowers.

Burgundy crepe gowns were worn by the other attendants who carried bouquets of pink roses, baby's breath and ferns.

Bridesmaids were Julie and Joyce Nelson, sisters of the bride; Judy Basuino, cousin of the groom; Diane Basuino sister of the groom, Mrs. Barbara Lanoie and Karol Bruton.

A floor-length gown of pink cotton lace accented by a pink and burgundy rose corsage was worn by Mrs. Eldred L. Nelson, the bride's mother, who carried an antique German silver purse and silver gloves.

Mrs. Frank L. Basuino, mother of the groom, was gowned in a long ice green crepe dress accented at the waist with a satin bow and enhanced with a green orchid corsage.

The groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Basuino, 3408 Kathleen St., San Jose, chose a cousin, James Basuino, as best man.

Serving the couple as ushers were Gary Wright, Kurt Nelson, brother of the bride; Alan Parker, Tim Wood, Armand Lanoie and Michael Culcasi.

Flowergirl at the large wedding was Gina Basuino, cousin of the groom, while her brother, Joseph Basuino, was ring bearer.

Providing music for the event were Mrs. Boch, organist; Linda Scantena, soloist, and the Star Nighters Band.

Among the out-of-town wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Doug Strong of Los Alamitos, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Flagg, Santa Barbara, Calif. Both couples are former area residents and friends of the Nelson family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Radonga, cousins of the groom, traveled from La Crescenta to attend the recent ceremony, while Robert Basuino's godmother and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hodson, journeyed from Fresno.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Comer and Mrs. D. Duensing, cousins of the bride, came to the nuptials from Laytonville and Chico, Calif., respectively.

Also present at the wedding were all the men and women who had served as attendants for the weddings of Mr. and Mrs. Eldred L. Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Basuino.

Grandparents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Pannekoek, of Lake Tahoe, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Nelson of Oakland, former Campbell residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Conte of San Francisco, also formerly of Campbell, and Mrs. Frances Basuino and the late Joseph Basuino are grandparents of the groom.

Mal Vaughn, photographer at the ceremony also snapped the photos at the wedding of the bride's parents, 21 years ago.

Nearly 400 friends and relatives attended a reception in the Serbian Hall, Saratoga, which was decorated with carnations and ivy and a five-tier cake.

After greeting their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Basuino left for a wedding trip to Southern California.

Loreen, a Camden High graduate, is an employee of the First National Bank. She was a night student at West Valley Jr. College and a past honored queen of Jobs Daughters, Bethel 298.

Her husband also a Camden High graduate and a student at West Valley College, is employed by the Plaza Delicatessen.

Couple celebrates 50 wedded years

Vern and Marie Suess, half-century residents of San Jose and Campbell, celebrated 50 years of marriage recently at a reception in their honor. Their daughters, Mrs. Edwin (Gloria) Loudon, and Mrs. Robert (Beverly) Barton, along with their husbands and children, arranged the special event. Invitations were sent to over 120 friends and relatives.

Guests included many "old-time" residents, some of whom were schoolmates of the honored couple.

The San Jose Swim and Racquet Club was decorated for the celebration with large spring bouquets of yellow Chrysanthemums, daisies and baby's breath to carry out the symbolic gold theme.

Champagne toasts were offered by many guests as the "bride and groom" cut their first wedding cake since their elopement fifty years ago.

Mrs. Leslie Wilson, longtime friend of the couple, presided at the tea table. Mr. and Mrs. Suess, formerly of Rosemary Lane, recently moved to Paradise, Calif.

College men clean campus

Conservation is not a some-me thing—at least not to a group of West Valley College students.

This spring students enrolled in a class on conservation of natural resources, taught by Joe Livingstone, were asked to do a term project involving them with some aspect of conservation.

Randy Blevins, 22, Jay Collura, 20 and Bruce Batinich, 19, more than fulfilled the assignment when they collected over 50 pounds of trash during a clean up of Saratoga Creek.

Each of the young men scavenged the creek, which runs across the college campus, two hours a week for over two months.

The group chose the creek, according to Blevins, because "people have to do something about pollution problems locally."

The three noted that their clean-up of 200 yards of Saratoga Creek would affect San Francisco Bay, since the stream feeds into San Tomas Aquino Creek, then Wildcat Creek, Alviso and finally the Bay.

Their work was not without its hazards. All three developed severe cases of poison oak which kept them out of action for two weeks, but that didn't deter them. They collected an old lawn mower, large old garbage cans, and signs, as well as paper cups, styrofoam and gum wrappers.

The three hope that their initial involvement in keeping the creek clean will inspire other students and faculty members to refrain from using it as a garbage receptacle.

JayCees hold summer fiesta

Rides, games and food will be offered by the Campbell JayCees in cooperation with Great Western Shows at their sixth annual summer fiesta, Thursday to Sunday, June 15 to 18.

Proceeds from the fiesta, to be held at San Tomas Plaza, Campbell Avenue and San Tomas Aquino Road, will be used by the JayCees for community projects, as well as for the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America.

Special tickets, allowing a discount of six rides at half price, may be obtained from the JayCees, prior to the show's opening.

DONKEY GAME

Veterans of Foreign Wars of Campbell will have a donkey softball game on Sunday, June 18, at Campbell High School.

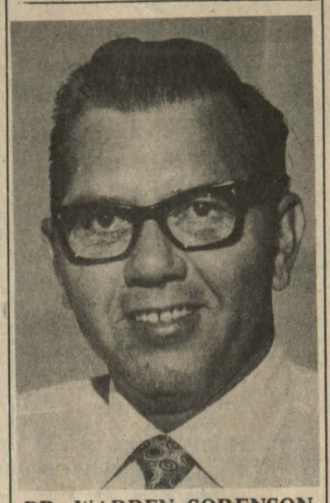
Game time is 2 p.m. and no charge will be made for spectators. Prizes will be offered.

SCHAECHER TO COLORADO

The top distance runner from West Valley College will be among those competing next weekend in Colorado in the National Junior Championship track meet.

Mike Schaecher, a graduate of Branham will run in the meet for 19 year olds.

The event will be qualifying competition for a meet with the Russians set for later in the summer.



DR. WARREN SORENSON

Fellow members pick assistant superintendent

In a unanimous decision, trustees of West Valley College turned to Dr. Warren W. Sorenson, a member of their own staff, to fill the newly created post of assistant superintendent of education.

Sorenson, currently dean of vocational education at West Valley, was given a two-year contract effective July 1 at an annual salary of $27,000.

The position was created in February when the governing board adopted a revised administrative organizational structure, at the suggestion of James P. Hardy, superintendent.

The new structure contains two assistant superintendent positions—one for education and another for finance, filled by Dr. Leroy Lowery.

Forty-one-year-old Sorenson noted his desire to establish differentiated staffing, management by objectives, accountability and coordinated instruction in his application chosen from more than 70 others.

Sorenson, who came to West Valley in 1969 after serving for one year as a research specialist for vocational education at UCLA, coordinator of vocational education at Fremont Unified School District in Fremont, has served in various instructional capacities at Mission San Jose High School, Fremont; Irvington High School, Fremont; and James Logan High School, Union City.

His educational background includes a doctorate in education degree from UCLA, and a master's and bachelor's degree from Chico State College.

West Valley Sports

VIKES OUT TO "MAINTAIN TRADITION"

In the past three years West Valley College football teams have either won outright or tied for the Camino Norte Conference title. And in 1972, under a new head coach, the Vikings will be out to "maintain that winning tradition."

Fifteen top lettermen head list of top notch football players at West Valley as they gun for their fourth straight crown.

"We're shooting to make the post season games," said John Nicholas as he heads into his first year as head coach at West Valley after three years as an assistant. "Our goal is to win the league and be their representative at the state play-offs."

Leading the offensive punch next season will be quarterback JOE ALVAREZ (CAMPBELL) and running backs Mitch Pierracci (Branham), Don DeLay (Saratoga) and Doug Gerdwagon (Leigh).

Catching most of the Viking passes should be lettermen SAM LoBUE (CAMPBELL) and MIKE JONES (WESTMONT), wide receivers, and GARY HARRIS (CAMDEN) tight end.

Sparking play in the offensive line will be the experienced Frank Edwards (Buchser), center Gary Mrdutt (Leigh) and tackle Dennis Fink (Del Mar).

The defensive backfield is loaded with experience as three defensive backs and two linebackers return for their second WVC season. Backs Brad Syth (Santa Clara), Vic Bennett (Buchser) and Charlie Prior and backers Paul Neubauer (Del Mar) and Steve Cobler (Leigh) should lead the big "D" unit.

SUMMER SOCCER

Applications must be turned in promptly for those interested in playing in the West Valley College summer soccer league.

There will be two divisions --high school and college--and leagues will start next Monday and Tuesday. Only those living in the WVC area can compete. For more information contact Dick Schwendinger 867-2209.

Water Skiing Thrills Millions; Here's How to Join in the Sport

Water skiing has come a long, long way since Fred Waller strapped on the first pair of water skis back in 1924 and went skimming across Long Island Sound into sports history.

Both went on to great success, Waller as inventor of the Cinerama movie process, water skiing as a thrilling-yet-safe sport enjoyed last year by more than 10-million persons.

Most Popular on Water

From prestigious tournaments like the Masters at Callaway Gardens, Ga., to the aquatic extravaganzas at Cypress Gardens, Fla., from little lake to big ocean, water skiing is one of the most popular of all water sports.

It's also one of the safest, thanks to a few easily-followed common sense rules and practices that have long been part of water skiing.

First, be sure you know how to swim, then buckle on an approved flotation device such as a ski belt or life jacket. Most states require one; in all, it's good water skiing sense.

Skiers should check their equipment to make sure it is in good working order, with no loose parts or splinters. And beginners should learn to look straight ahead, avoid clowning and dangerous stunts, and stay away from docks and boats.

Avoid the Shallows

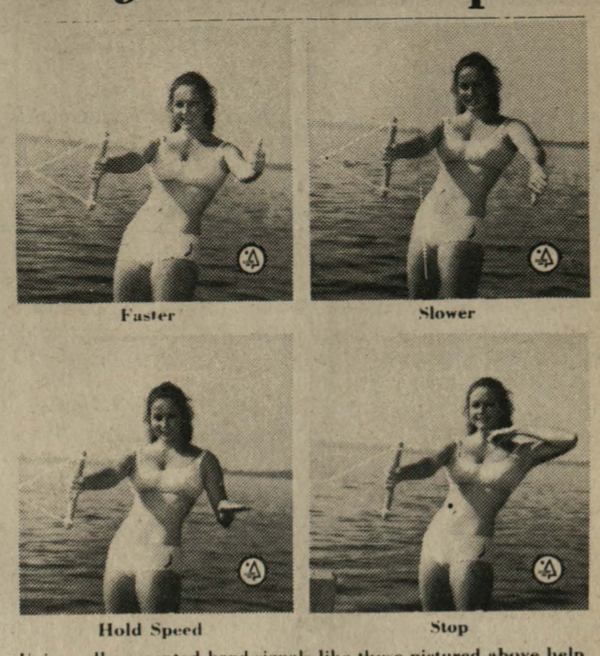
After a fall, clasp both hands overhead to let the driver know you're okay. If there's other boat traffic nearby, hold a ski up in the air after falling so you'll be easily noticed.

Avoid skiing in shallow water. Five feet is the minimum depth experts consider safe for adults. Never attempt fast landings on shore (it's surprising how rough a sand beach can be at the end of a misjudged landing attempt), and don't jump from the boat while it's moving.

Don't ski until exhausted, don't ski in front of another boat and never ski at night. There simply won't be enough light to let you enjoy the sport.

These days it takes three to water ski the way water should be skied: the skier, the driver and the observer.

Water skiing is safe, simple, fun. A little common sense is all it takes to discover why Fred Waller's "slats" have become a multi-million dollar, multi-million participant sport in five short decades.



Universally accepted hand signals like those pictured above help the water skier communicate with the boat driver (through the observer), and make for safer, more enjoyable skiing. The signals as shown above mean faster, hold speed, slower and stop.

Swimming available at school pools

Instruction will be offered at Blackford, Branham, Campbell, Camden, Del Mar, Leigh, Prospect, and Westmont High Schools.

DARTING AROUND

with Tom Carroll

Now that the dart season is over there will be a couple of weeks for relaxation. Then a group of the area darters are forming a summer league, just to keep in practice. We understand that this will start on June 28.

The most interesting finish for the season has to be the El Camino League, where three teams tied for second place behind the "Saints" of the Winchester St. Congregation. The three teams are: Scarlet LaRue's II, Prince of Wales I and Andy Capp's I. The "Saints" finished 11 games ahead.

SOUTH BAY LEAGUE

For the fourth straight season Scarlet LaRue's I has taken the South Bay League "A" Division Championship. They finished 17 games ahead of the second place Lancashire Lad I. The two Primrose teams were in the next two places with Harold's of Redwood and Lancashire Lad II bringing up the rear.

In the "B" Division, Banbury Clock I fortified its lead to 24 games while the Country Store moved ahead of Black Watch I. Bringing up the tail end in this division is Lancashire Lad III "Goof-Offs" and the diddlers of Gaslighter Theater I.

Winchester St. Congregation "Sinners" took the title in the second "B" division of the South Bay League. The Gaslighter Theater III "Villains" were only a half game behind going into last week's play. The "Sinners" beat the "Villains" by a score of 7-5.

Third and fourth went to Andy Capp's II and Black Watch II with Lancashire Lad IV and Gaslighter Theater II in the back of the pack.
